stered according to Act of Congress, is the J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., in the Clerk's REAT CURE FOR DYSPERSIA :- ANOTHER SCIEN DR. J. S. HOUGHTON'S

THE TRUE DIGESTIVE FLUID, OR GASTRIC JUICE, PREFARED from Remet, or the Fourth Stomach of the Ox, after the directions of Baron Liebig, the grant Physiclogical Cleanint, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., Philadelphia.

Penn.
This is a truly wonderful remedy for Indigection. Drapep-sia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Consumption and Debility, curing after Nature's own method, by Nature's own Agent, the Gastric Juice.

Half a tes-spoonful of Pepsin, influed in water, will digest or dissolve five pounds of roast beef in about two hours, c of the stomach.

Tepsin is the chief element or digesting principle of the district fulce—the solvent of the lood, the purifying preserving and stimulating agent of the stormach and intestines. It is extracted from the digestive stemach of the Ox, thus forming an artificial digestive float precisely libe the natural Gastric-Juice in its chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it. By the aid of this preparation, the pains and evils of Indigestion and Dyspepsin are removed just as they would be by a healthy stormach. It is daing wonders for despepties, during cases of Debility, Enseciative, Nervous Decking and Dyspeptic Consumption, supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The scientific evidence upon which it is based is in the highest degree curious and remarkable.

Scientific Evidence. Baron Liebig, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, save: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid, analogous to the Gastrie Juice, may be prepared from the macous membrane of the storach of the Ox, in which various articles of food, as ment and eggs, will be softened, changed and digested, just in the same manner as they would changed and digested, just in the same manoer as they would be in the annual stomach.

Dr. Preira, in his feroms freatise on "Food and Diet," published by Fowler & Wells, New York, page 25 states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Priera.

Dr. Combe, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a diminution of the due quantity of the Gastric Juice is a prominent and albertrailing cause of Dyspepsia:" and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in Leadon, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, finding every thing else to fail, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomachs of living animals, which proved completely successful."

Dr. Grabam, author of the flamous works on "Vegetable Diet," says: "It is a remarkable fact in Physiology, that the stomachs of animals, macerated in water, impair to the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestive process."

Dr. Simon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lee & Blanchard, Philadelphia, 1856, pp. 221-2, says. "The discovery of Presin forms a new ora in the colomical history of digestion. From recent experiments we know that food it dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natural Gastric Juice itself."

from Pepsin, as it is in the natural Gastric Juice itself.

Professor Dunglison, of the Jefferson College, Philadelphia, in his great work on Human Physiology, devices more than fifty pages to an examination of this subject. His experiments with Dr. Bestumont, on the Gastric Juice obtained from the living human stormen, and from animals, are well known. "In all cases," he says, "digestion occurred as per-fectly in the artificial as in the natural digestion."

known. "In all cases, he says, "digestion occurred as perfectly in the artificial as in the natural digestion."

Dr. John W. Druper, Professor of Chemistry in the College of the University of New York, in his "Text Buck of Chemistry," page $56, says: "It has been a question whether artificial digestion could be performed—but it is now universally admitted that it may be."

Dr. Carpender satandard work on Physiology, which is in the library of every physician, and is used as a text-book in all the colleges, is full of evidence similar to the moove, respecting the remarkable digestive power of Pepsia, and the fact that it may be readily separated from the seconds of the coll or ox, and used for experiments in artificial digestion, or as a remody for diseases of the stomach, and deficient secretion of the finitric Juice.

All modern works on Chemistry, Materia Medica and Physiology, and all good Medical Dictimantics, describe the character and properties of Persin, and state many interesting details respecting it.

The fact that an Artificial Digestive Fluid, or Gastric Juice, perfectly resembling the natural fluid, may be readily pre-pared, does not admit of question. The only wonder is, that it has not before been applied to the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia—so naturally does such a use suggest itself to the As a Dyspepsia Curer, Dr. Houghton's Pepsin has
